So Even Though There's No Disco In Rocky Mount, You Haven't Departed From The Global Village By Coming To Ferrum.

- Dr. Douglas Foard

The roads of the world take us through many changes in our lives. Sometimes life is peaceful and quiet, but at other times it is dark and gray. We learn about ourselves and the world as we each go down our own roads. All roads lead to a world of new people and friends. Each road will take us through new experiences, preparing us to live and work in the global village. We have been given the chance to look down these roads through our "Insight" programs and "Project Quill", both of which offer alternative directions our lives may take.

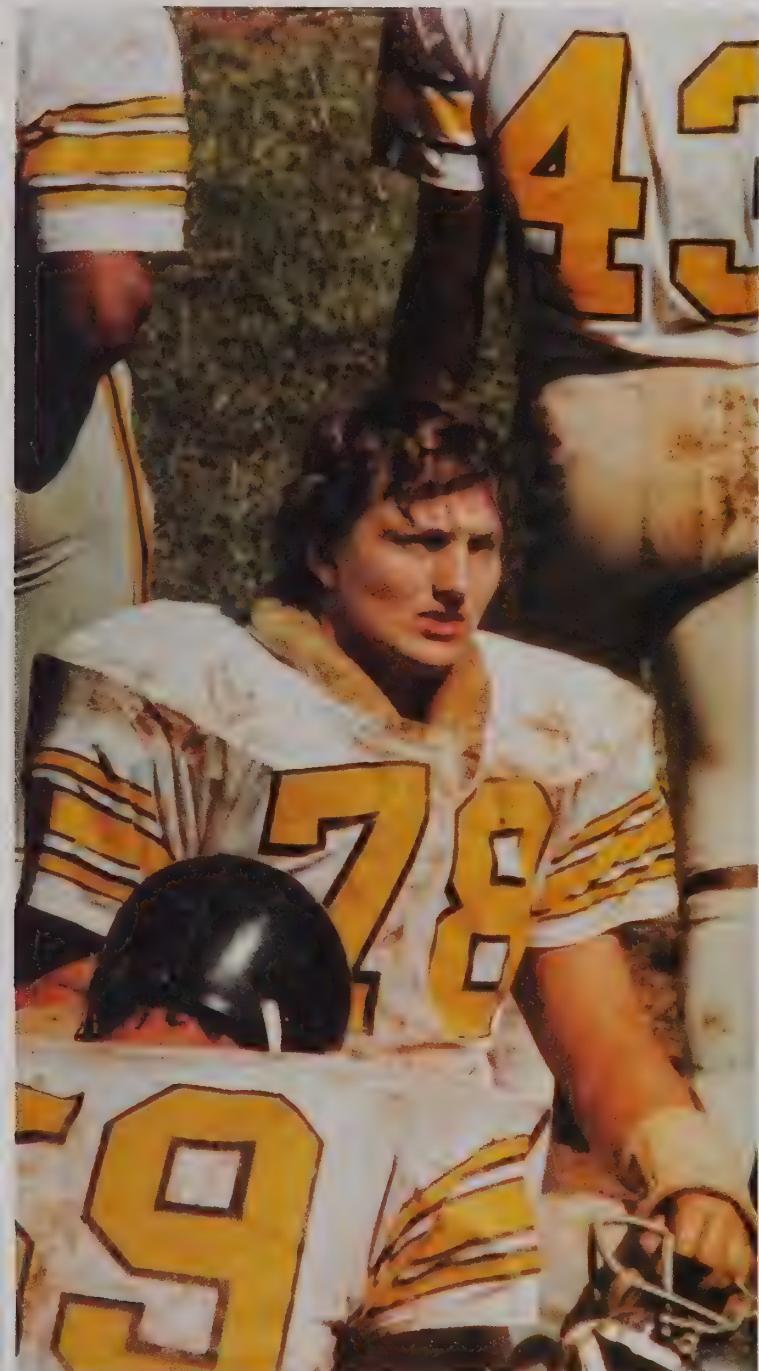

The solar winds blow, bringing to us their glow of light and heat. The rain falls giving us life and providing streams for all to enjoy. We find the world about us full of great and gentle beauty. In our communities, we find this same beauty. Each person becomes his or her own different shade of emotion, coming together to seek the good in our neighbors and to learn from one another. When we meet with each other, the different shades of emotion blend and form that beautiful creation we call mankind. Just as the sun rises or the streams flow, mankind moves together, reaching toward the global village.

As individuals, we are given the chance to decide which roads we will travel. We are free to make our own decisions, but we must remember that there are those in other parts of the world that do not share our freedom. Even though we find these people different, we must remember that they are a vital part of our global village. For without different ideas and cultures to stimulate us, we could not appreciate the freedom we enjoy. We can be ourselves, as well as a part of the community.

To What Do I Owe

To what do I owe this honor
This honor that makes me glow
To what do I owe this pleasure
This music moves me so
To what do I owe my attention
The attention that makes me grow
To what do I owe to friends
Those that I care for so
To what do I owe
To what do I owe

- Bill Thomas

REACH OUT

Reach out to win
Reach out to go
Reach out to capture
Reach out to grow
Reach out

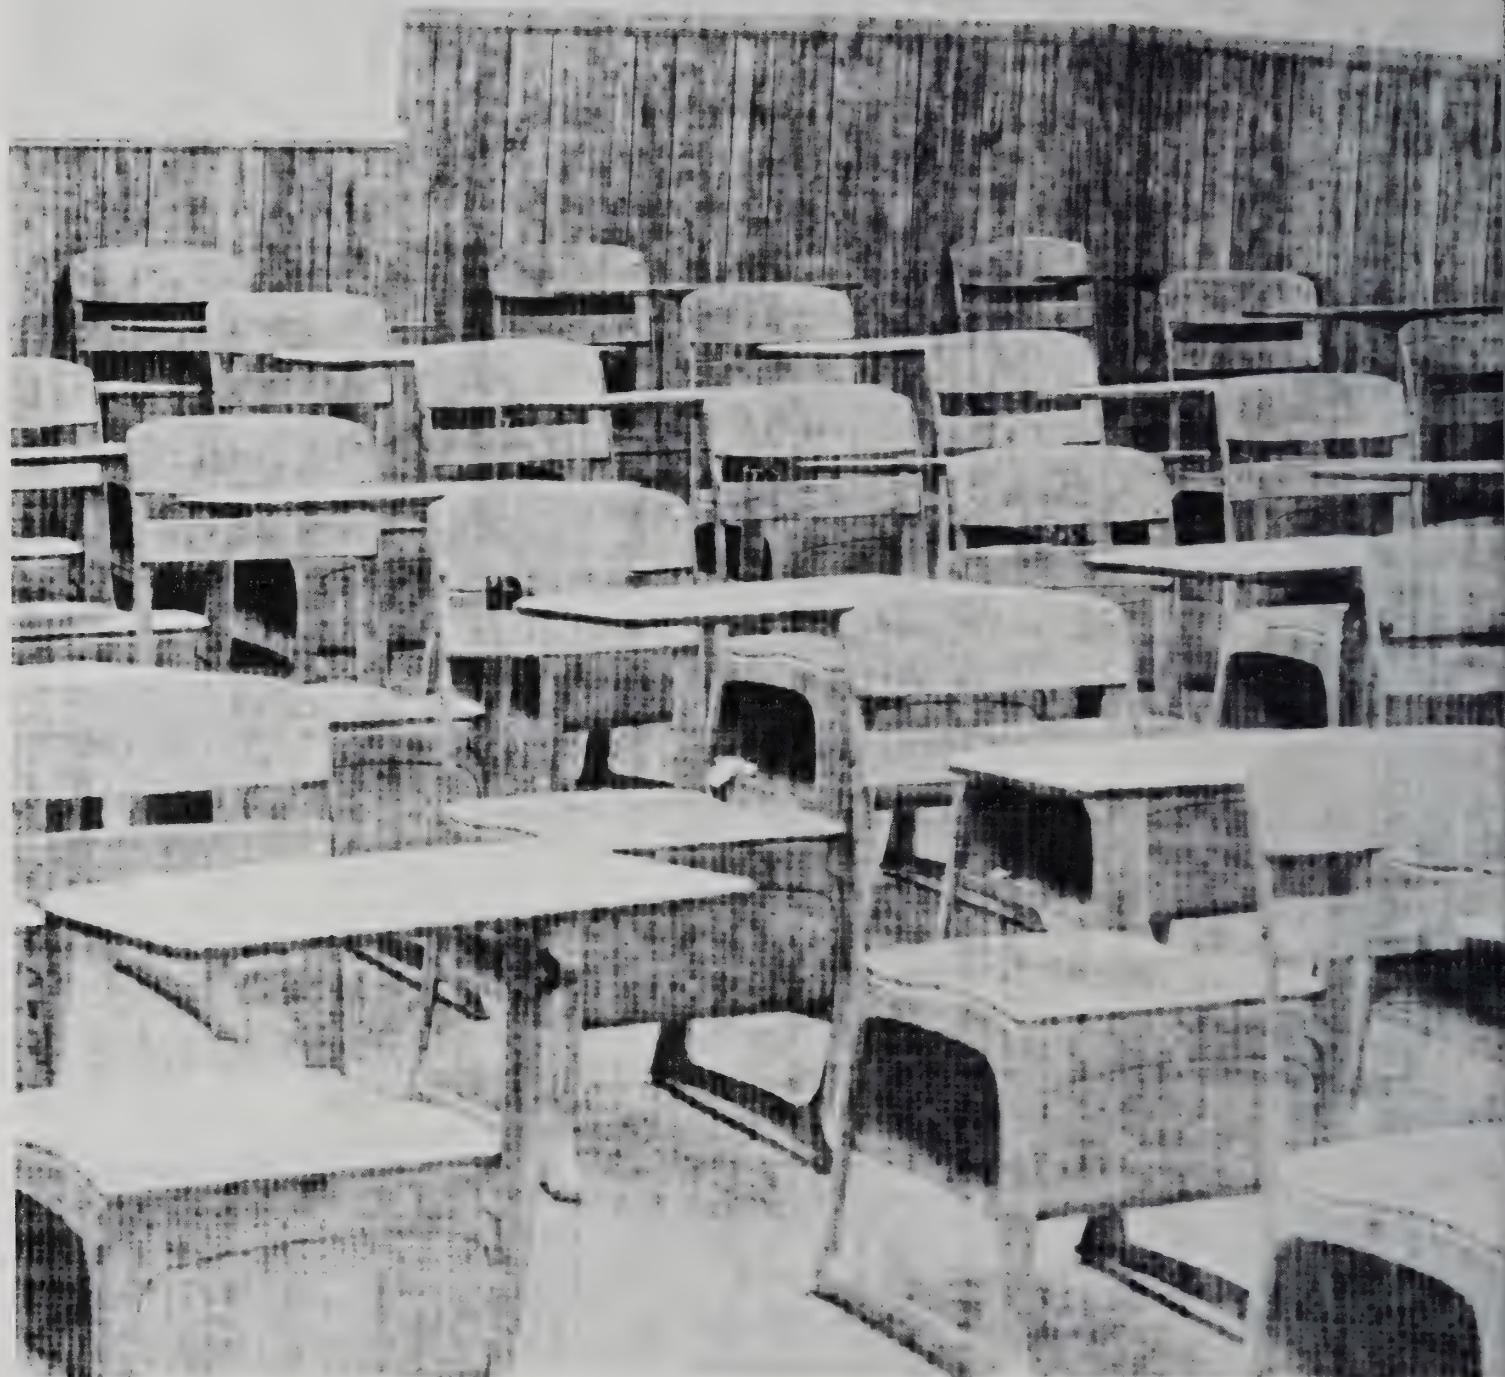

— Bill Thomas

Hurry up! You're late! I've got a paper due today!
How many times have we all heard these statements? Day after day, week after week, we sit in class and absorb mountains of information to prepare us for our individual place in the global village.

OF FRIENDS

Memories stay as moments fade,
The thoughts of friends remain
Forever and a day.
Good times and bad help friends
to grow,
Love between them takes time to flow.
Difference adds to the color
of their relationship,
As does likeness add to the flavor of their fellowship.
Friends go on as time passes by for in this type of fellowship their happiness never dies.
Friends bond in their own special ways,
For I say again these types of friends remain
forever and a day.

In their third year, Ferrum College Men's and Women's Swim Team enjoyed an exciting year of firsts. The one most noticed by the spectators was the addition of both male and female divers. Sophomore diver Rex Hodgson also served as Diving Coach. First year member Connie Pergerson set a first by always taking the top spot in every individual event that she swam, including four at Regionals. For the men's team, the first was participation in the NJCAA National Swim Meet in Florida. Leon Hodge, Jesse Riggan, Jeff Nesbitt, and Jim Goode spent the first week of March at IRCC's outdoor pool. Coach Nancy Casner was assisted all season by Wes Benbow.

NEW FERRUM SINGERS/HAND BELL RINGERS

The sun sets on another instant of growth:
think about all you
have learned,
the memories you'll nurture.

Knowledge is forever,
a constant, unending process for with every sun set yet another one will come.

REACHING FOR THE QUALITY OF LIFE

The year at Ferrum. Individuals being themselves. Living, working, playing, interacting, learning, helping to build the experience together. Everyone preparing for their place in the global village.

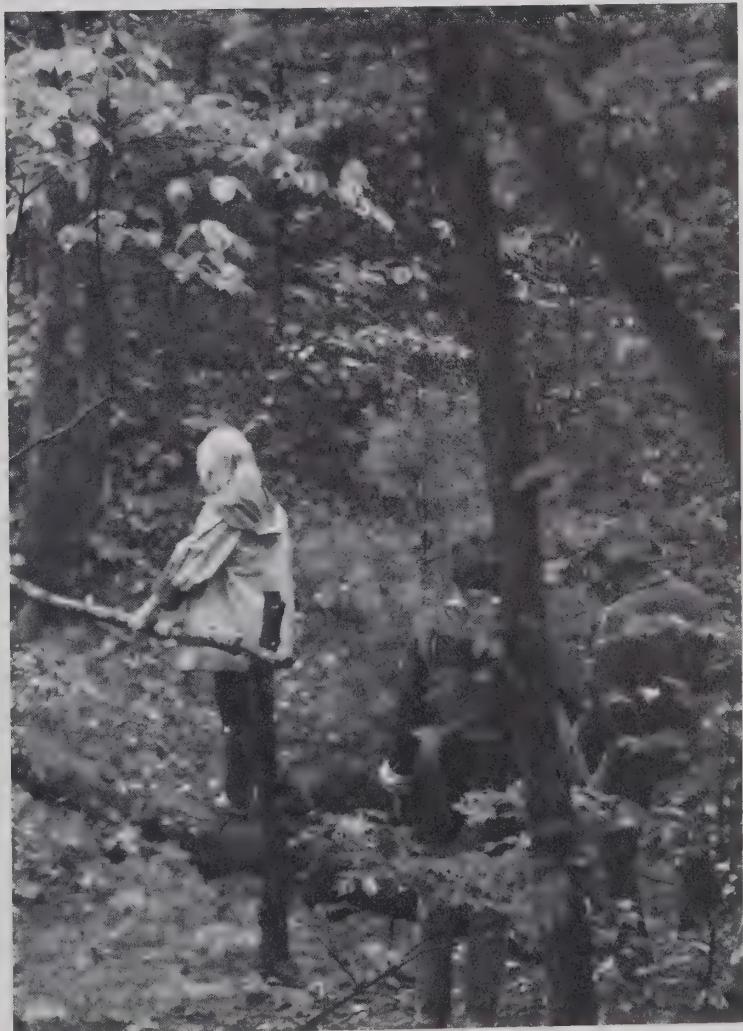

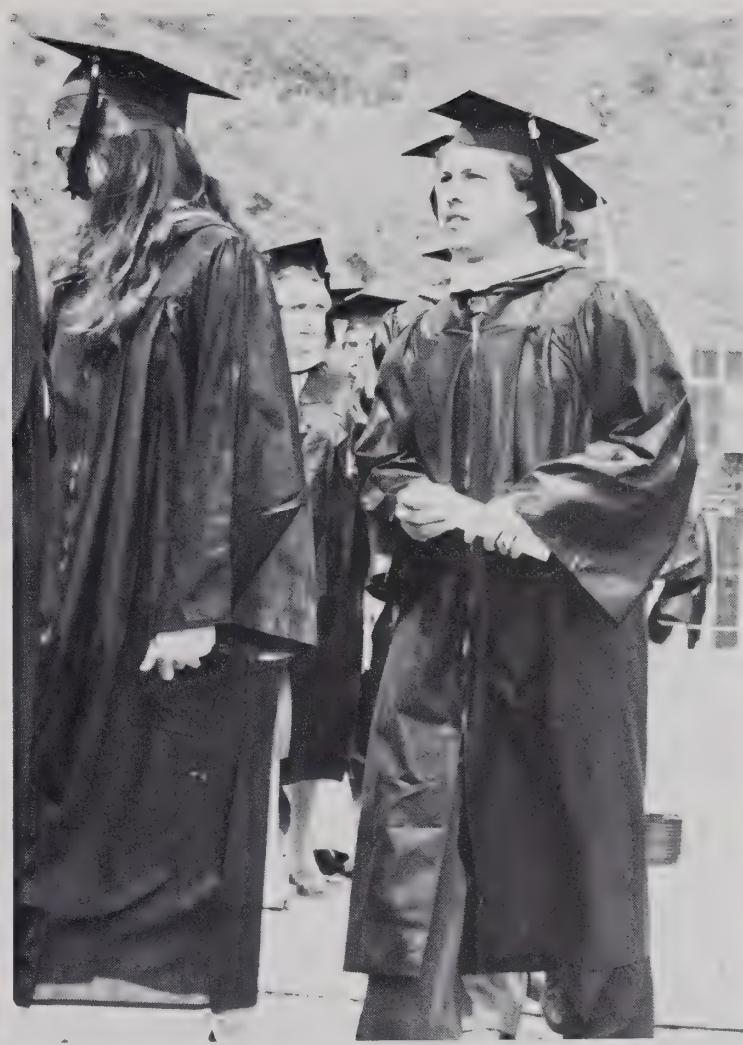

Having a chance to be with many people or by ourselves. Experiencing challenges, meeting them, and working toward the quality of life we each seek.

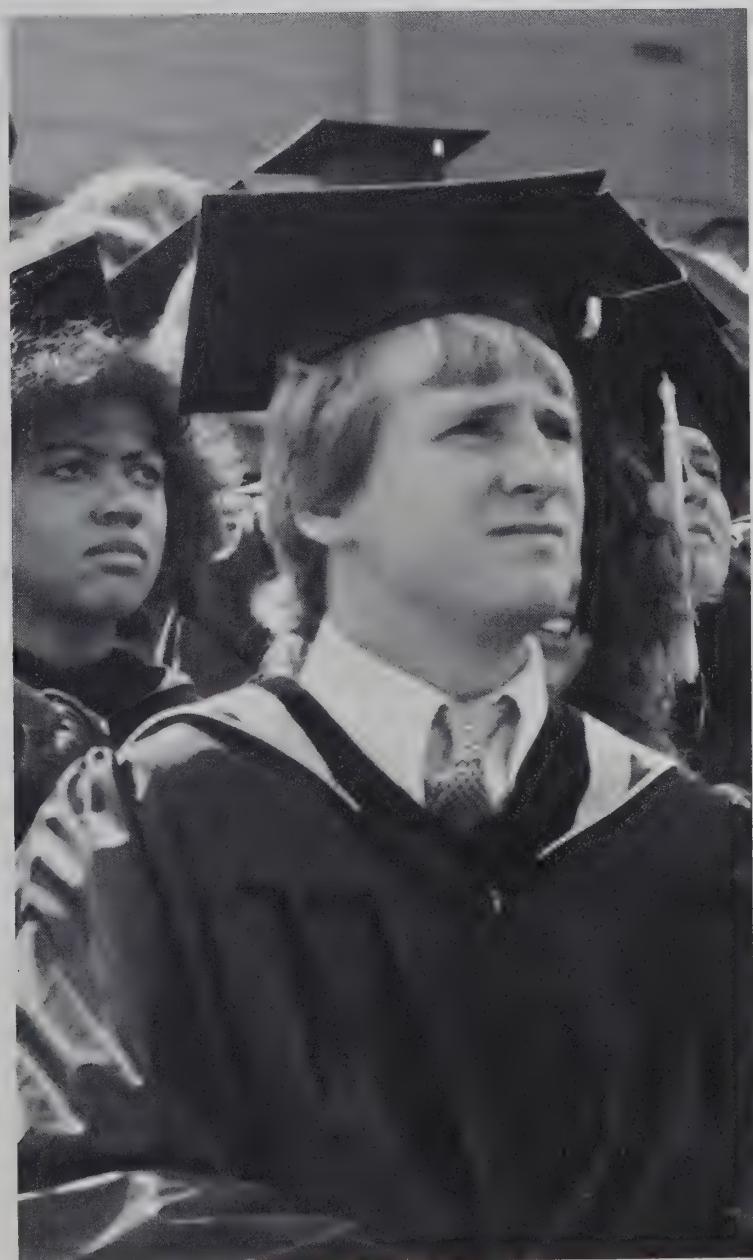

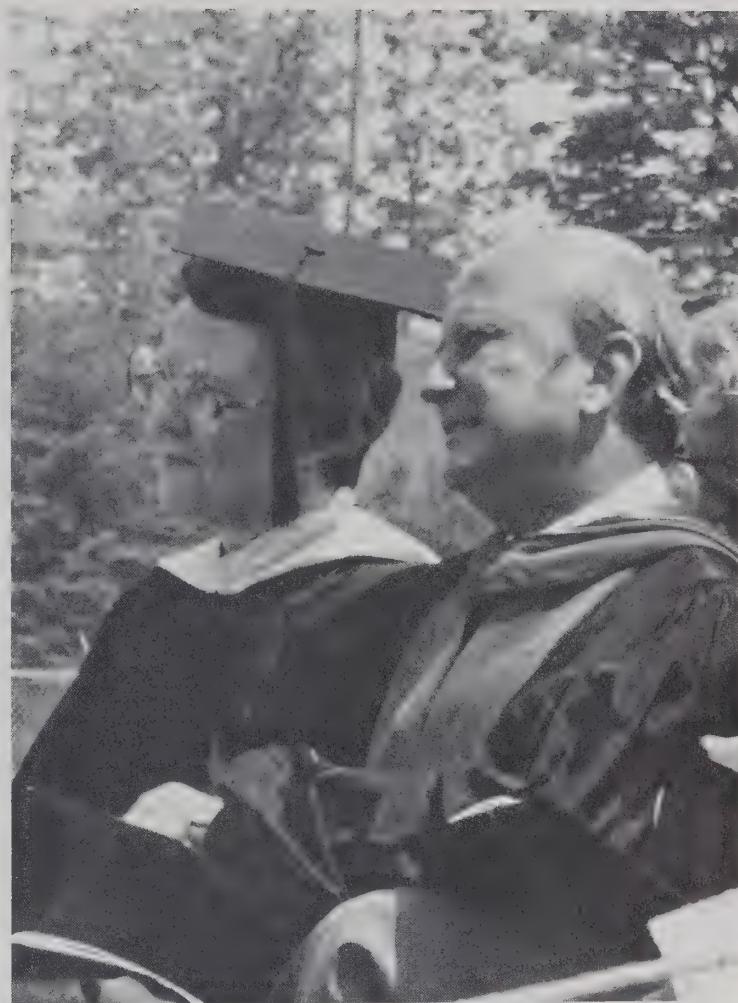

The big day finally arrives, and with it come parents, friends, relatives, and memories. A day in which we receive gratification for all our hard work. Suddenly we get a scary feeling that we might fail our dreams. Just as quickly, we forget and start looking forward to our part in the world.

A time to reflect on friends, classes, and the campus that has become such a part of our lives. A time to look at the achievements we have made. But mostly, a time to look ahead, to reach for the quality of life.
